Japan Packaging Institute (JPI)

Japan Packaging Institute (JPI) was established in March 1963, and was upgraded to a legal entity in June by the Minister of International Trade and Industry. With the doctrine of "Challenging the future of packaging by means of originality and ingenuity", the juridical foundation, Japan Packaging Institute, has been promoting the rationalization of production and distribution as well as consumption through improvement and elevation of the packaging technique and thereby contributing to the progress of Japan's economy.
